To Dr. Amy Barron

Program Coordinator of Heritage Programs
Fleming College
Peterborough, ON

On behalf of the Peterborough and County Military Museum and the Hastings and Prince Edward Regimental Museum, it is with great pride and admiration that we extend our heartfelt appreciation to Joshua Sol of Fleming College, Museum Management and Curatorship Program on the successful development of an innovative education program.

Your dedication and collaborative effort in creating a learning experience that not only aligns with the Ontario Ministry of Education curriculum requirements but also supports the learning objectives of the Royal Canadian Army Cadets is truly commendable. By integrating historical understanding with practical skills development, your program stands as a powerful tool for inspiring youth and honouring the legacy of Canada's and Peterborough & County's military heritage.

We are especially impressed by your ability to thoughtfully bridge the classroom with real-world application, reinforcing values such as leadership, service, and citizenship—hallmarks of the Army Cadets and our Canadian Armed Forces. Your achievement exemplifies the spirit of initiative and excellence we aim to foster in all who engage with our history. We are confident that your work will have a lasting impact on both education and commemoration. Congratulations once again on this outstanding accomplishment. We salute your commitment to learning, leadership, and remembrance.

With sincere respect and admiration,
